Who is helped?

Citizens get visibility of their complaint. Ward clerks can find records quickly. Departments can focus on long-waiting issues.

THE PROBLEM

Paper registers make complaints easy to lose track of

No clear status

People cannot tell whether a complaint is open, being handled, or resolved.

Old cases are hidden

A clerk cannot easily see which grievance has been waiting the longest.

Repeated visits

Citizens return to ask about issues because there is no quick record to check.

Goal: record every grievance against a department and status, keep it visible until it is closed, and prioritise the oldest pending cases.

Main register — search, filter, count, and act on the oldest first

Information needed by a ward clerk is visible immediately

Live search and filters

Search finds an ID, citizen, ward, department, or category while the clerk types. Department and status filters narrow the list without a submit button.

Visible count and order

The screen says how many complaints are displayed and orders records by their filed date, so older grievances appear first.

Useful fields on every card

Each card shows the complaint ID, citizen, ward, department, filed date, status, and waiting days.

Result

A clerk can identify the right case and see what needs attention without reading a paper register.

A clear record detail view puts the key number first

Derived figures

Waiting days = today – filed date

Used for Open and In Progress grievances.

Resolution days = resolved date – filed date

Used for Resolved grievances. Example: grievance 1002 was filed on 03 Jul and resolved on 05 Jul: 2 days.

Records are designed to be reliable, not just displayed

Key decision

Status changes go into their own history table instead of overwriting a column. This preserves how the grievance moved over time.

Testing completed

12 constraint checks passed: foreign keys, null/empty values, duplicates, invalid quantities, invalid priority, and future dates.

A focused solution for the assessment requirements

What works

- Grievance register and detail view
- Live search and filters
- Displayed-record count and oldest-first ordering
- Waiting/resolution calculations
- Normalised schema, seed data, and tests

Next improvement

Add a small clerk form to create and update grievance records directly in the application, with the same validation rules used by the database.
